FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS.

MARCUS J. PARROTT.

Delegate to Congress.

The Republican Convention which met at Lawrence on Wednesday, the 3d inst., to nominate a Delegate to Congress, put in nomination Hon. MARCUS J. PARROTT. Want of space compels us to omit the publication of the proceedings. There were 103 delegates present, representing every county in the Territory. The result of the informal ballot was as follows: Parrott, 57; Conway, 26; Danford, 11; Foster, 3; Harding, 1; Pomeroy, 4; Blank, 1. Mr. Parrott having received a considerable majority on the informal ballot, was, on motion, declared unanimously nominated, and the convention passed a resolution, without a dissenting voice, recommending to the Republican voters of the Territory that they give to Mr. Parrott their hearty and undivided support, as a duty they owed to the cause of their country.

We hoist the name of Mr. Parrott at the head of our columns to-day, and shall do all that in our power lies to secure his election by a triumphant majority.

The Republicans of this portion of Kansas know their duty and will perform it, by giving to Mr. Parrott their unanimous support.

After the nomination was made Mr. Parrott was waited upon by a committee of three gentlemen, who informed him of the honor which had been conferred upon him by his fellow-citizens. He came forward and was received with cheers by the large audience. In his speech accepting the nomination, he planted himself fair and square on the Republican platform, and announced his intention to canvass the entire Territory on the political issues involved in the contest before us. We hope that he will favor the people of this section with his presence at an early day.

The Constitution.

We gladly give up our columns this week to the new Constitution, and ask for it a careful and candid examination at the hands of every reader. In our judgement it is not merely the best of the four framed for Kansas, but the best in the Union. We consider it in almost every particular a MODEL INSTRUMENT. It is moderate and conservative in its provisions, clear and perspicuous in its language, and just to all sections. We believe it will be found to be precisely such a Constitution as The People have been wanting and waiting for. The opposition to it is purely factious and partisan, and will prove to be as impotent as it is baseless.

Neither the Negrophilists, nor the Negrophobists, the "Nigger worshippers" nor the Devil worshippers, have succeeded in marring its fair proportions. The negro and the blood-hound are both ignored while the bona fide inhabitants of Kansas will find in it a safe guard for every right and a ready means of redress provided for every grievance. Our most sanguine hopes and expectations are far more than realized. From the well known ability and integrity of the members composing the convention we expected a good Constitution, but we did not expect one so faultless in every word and every line. We congratulate the members of the Convention upon their work, and we congratulate the people of Kansas that the day of their deliverance from Federal tyranny and misrule is near at hand! Again we say to all "read the Constitution!"

Salt Springs.

The new Constitution provides that Congress shall donate to the State of Kansas twelve Salt Springs, with a section of land adjoining each, and all land necessary for working them. We learn that in the south western part of the State, about 100 miles South from where Walnut Creek empties into the Arkansas, there is a region where pure rock salt is found in great abundance near the surface of the ground. If a well be sunk to the depth of six or eight feet it fills with water so highly impregnated with salt that a stick dipped in the water and withdrawn is almost instantly coated white with pure salt. We learn that this salt region is particularly described in "Craig's Commerce of the Prairies." Who has the Book? It is by no means improbable that Kansas within a very few years may supply the whole valley of the Mississippi with salt. Who can give us more light upon the matter?

The highest award made by the Claim Commissioners for losses sustained during the Kansas troubles, was to S. W. Eldridge. His claim amounted to sixty thousand one hundred and seventy-seven dollars, forty-nine thousand seven hundred and seventy-two dollars of which was for Henry B. Lacy, of Douglas county, of nine dollars and twenty cents, whose claim was for ten thousand and twenty-one dollars!

The Topeka Tribune says that a gentleman living on the opposite side of the river from Topeka had four horses stolen from him on Sunday night, the 31st ult. The Tribune talks about hanging for such offences. We would suggest that the first thing in order would be to catch them!

Our Delegates—"Sum Cum Quis."

"To each his own," says the Latin proverb, which our friend of the Leavenworth Times unwittingly violates when he represents William McCulloch Esq., one of our members in the Wyandotte Convention, as residing at Council Grove, Morris county. Mr. McCulloch resides at Cahola, in Breckenridge county, nearly ten miles from Council Grove, but has his mail matter addressed to Council Grove for convenience. "Old Breckenridge" claims Mr. McCulloch as her own, and will not waive her claim even in behalf of one of the "disfranchised counties." Messrs. Winchell and McCulloch were the Republican delegates of the 17th District, including (so the Governor said) the counties of Osage, Breckenridge, Morris and Chase. We are proud of them both, and wish it to be distinctly understood that the latter resides in Breckenridge, and the former close to the lines!

By the way, we hear an incident of these gentlemen, which our readers may not have met with. As it illustrates very forcibly prominent traits in their characters we must relate it. It seems that just before the Convention adjourned a warm discussion arose on the report of the Investigating Committee. The African Democrats led on by McDowell, Stinson and Slough, all of Leavenworth, made a fierce onslaught upon Mr. Hutchinson, of Lawrence, insisting upon his expulsion on the ground that he had offered a lot in Lawrence to secure a vote in favor of Lawrence as the temporary capital. It was well known that the entire troop of Africans had offered to vote for Lawrence on condition that the Lawrence Delegates would vote for the annexation of Southern Nebraska. Mr. S. O. Thacher, of Lawrence, having listened to these fatulent tirades upon his colleague, made for "buncombe," took the floor and carried the war into Africa in gallant style, by showing that they were at least as guilty as Mr. Hutchinson, by offering to sell their votes to Lawrence on the capital question. All Africa was in a blaze in a moment. Stinson first gained the floor, and proceeded, in defiance of all rules, and of the President's repeated calls to order, to denounce Mr. Thacher in the most violent terms, his African friends backing him with furious shouts of "Go on!" "go on!" He yielded at last to the peremptory order of the President, and took his seat.

McDowell instantly sprang to his feet and continued in a similar strain. The President, after vain attempts to enforce the rules, ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms "to keep the gentleman from Leavenworth (McDowell) in order." McDowell, flourishing his cane defiantly over his head, called out "Let the Sergeant-at-Arms come on!" Col. Slough, the "fighting man" of the Africans, also sprang to his feet directly behind Mr. McCulloch, with the same yell of defiance, and all Africa did the same. Every Democrat was on his feet. For an instant all was wild excitement, and blood-shed seemed inevitable. Members were instinctively clutching for weapons, and the hot blood mounted into every face. Mr. Winchell, calm and cool as a granite column, stood erect at his desk. Mr. McCulloch rose up in massy strength, and turning deliberately around, so as to face the redoubtable Slough, and raising a most formidable pair of fists to the proper position, shouted in thunder tones, beginning in the Hebrew language, it is said, "ORDER SHALL BE MAINTAINED! IF YOU WANT A FIGHT COME ON!"

At that moment the true spirit of old Breckenridge was well represented. Mr. Winchell in the chair and Mr. McCulloch on the floor—were each in the proper place. They were the "men for the hour." Meanwhile the whole body of Republicans had taken a step in advance, nearly surrounding the Africans. At that critical moment the clear stern voice of President Winchell rang out—"Order! order!—gentlemen will resume their seats!" The tone and manner were decisive and the order was instantly obeyed. The "Africans" meekly subsided, the Republicans cooled instantly and the House was still as death.

Mr. McDowell again arose and addressed the chair.

President Winchell—Will the gentleman from Leavenworth obey the rules of the Convention?

Mr. McDowell—"I will!"

The President—"The gentleman from Leavenworth will proceed in order."

And he did.

The insurrection of the "Africans" was suppressed! Mr. McCulloch receives the highest compliments for courage and conduct, as he led the van, while the sentiments of the members toward the President will sufficiently appear from the following resolutions which were adopted unanimously, just before the Convention finally adjourned. The language is as happily chosen as the compliment is justly deserved.

WHEREAS, For the third time the people of Kansas, through their chosen Representatives, have convened, in earnestness and solemnity, to build up a bulwark of Freedom and popular rights, in the organization of a State Government, and

WHEREAS, The hour being nigh for the word of parting and the close of our labors; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the sincere thanks of this Convention are hereby tendered the Hon. J. M. Winchell, for the able, impartial and dignified manner in which he has fulfilled the obligations of his honorable and arduous position.

Resolved, That the Hon. J. M. Winchell will ever possess the highest regard, and kindest wishes of the members of this Convention.

According to the Osawatomie Herald, there are 1059 legal voters in Lykins county.

The Objections.

The Democrats alias Africans in the Wyandotte Convention refused to sign the Constitution, and will oppose it to the utmost. They pronounced it a model instrument in almost every respect but refused to sign it for two reasons. 1st, the boundaries do not suit them. 2nd, they dislike the apportionment for the first Legislature. As to the boundaries they wished to keep the Pike's Peak Gold Regions, and to annex Southern Nebraska. Now the idea of retaining the Gold Region in the new State is simply absurd. There is a vast uninhabited and uninhabitable region from three to five hundred miles in width between the settlements in Eastern Kansas and the Gold Region. Hence there will be little intercourse, and still less community of interest and feeling. The Miners in the Gold Region refuse to recognize the Territorial Laws, and are framing a Constitution for themselves. They will form a mining community, while we are essentially agricultural. The two interests would be adverse and conflicting. "How can two work together except they be agreed?"

Suppose for a moment that the Gold Regions were included in the new State, and a State Convention was to be held to nominate candidates, where should it be held? Why it must be upon the Plains among the Buffalo, and the delegates must start off provisioned, armed and equipped for a two months journey! Members of the Legislature must travel many hundreds of miles, and the expenses would be enormous! Pahaw! The whole thing is preposterous. As to Nebraska we do not want her. They have not shared with us in the dangers of the past—do not sympathize with us in the present, and would not in the future. Let them make a free State for themselves.

With regard to the apportionment, it is only for a single session, after which we are to have single Districts, based upon the census now being taken. It was proposed to base the first apportionment on the census, and for that purpose to choose by ballot three Commissioners to make the apportionment as soon as the census returns should be received. But this "the Democracy" were bitterly opposed to. Their real objection to the apportionment is that it does not leave sufficient chance for the minority of the voters to elect a majority of the Legislature!

The Gold Mines.

The company which went to the mines last spring from 142 creek in this county, have all returned but two. We had a talk a few days ago with Mr. Ward, one of the company, and a man whose word is perfectly reliable. He spent six weeks in the mines in order to fully satisfy himself in regard to the existence of gold in paying quantities. He says that about one man in a hundred is making it pay expenses, while the other ninety-nine are making nothing. He spent some time in the Gregory and Jackson diggings. Jackson admits himself that he never took out of his "lead," all told, over $75 worth of dust. It seems that Gregory and other interested parties succeeded most admirably in humbugging Horace Greeley. They "salted," or sprinkled gold dust on their "claims," and would then take Horace to see them gather the same gold they had put into the earth, thereby making him believe that they were working immensely rich diggings. Mr. W. says that there are hundreds of persons leaving the mines daily, while but very few are going in. Such is the substance of Mr. Ward's statement.

The Eldridge House.

While in Lawrence recently we "put up" at this excellent House, kept by the Eldridge Brothers, and must confess that we were considerably surprised at finding so extensive an institution of the kind in this far western country. It is fitted up in modern style and is furnished with every luxury that conduces to the happiness and comfort of its guests. It enjoys the reputation, and justly too, of being the best Hotel west of St. Louis. The table is always loaded with the best the country affords, the rooms are furnished in the latest and best style, the beds are excellent, the servants obliging and gentlemanly, and in fact nothing is wanting to make those who stop at "The Eldridge" feel at home. The Eldridge Brothers deserve great credit for their energy and enterprise, and we were glad to see that their excellent hotel was enjoying "a good run of custom."

The corner stone of a college edifice was laid at Ottumwa, Coffey county, on Wednesday the 10th inst. The Masonic order assisted in the ceremonies, and an oration was delivered by W. R. Davis, President of the Baldwin city University. We should be glad to hear of the corner stones of a few more school houses being laid before that of any more Universities. Better learn to walk before attempting to run!

The Sheriff of Buchanan County, Mo., has offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest and return of Dr. Doy. Why don't he go to Lawrence and take him? The Doctor is there, we understand, and he don't shun daylight, either. We rather guess that your $1000 will hardly suffice to return him, though.

We learn that a protracted meeting is being held by the Methodists in the neighborhood of Fremont. Several conversions have been made.

The Lawrence Herald opposes the new Constitution, and so does all the rest of the Administration organs in the Territory.

From the Mines.

We are permitted by Mrs. N. Randall, of this place, to make the following extract from a letter written to her by her husband, Mr. James W. Randall, who went out to the mines from Emporia, in April last. The letter is dated "Rocky Mountains, July 3d, 1859," and here is what it says about the Emporia boys:

"We have all got claims, and although we have not made much yet we are in good spirits, and confidently expect to make something handsome before winter. I presume we shall all be able to get gold enough to fit us out next spring. Every one of us want to spend next season here, for we all think that the miners here will only find the best diggings this summer, and that every body will get rich here next season. I expect that Miller, Murphy and myself will be all of our company that will come home this fall. Russell Randall and the rest will probably all stay here this winter. My plan will be to get home in October, and stay there till spring, then to bring you and the children out with me next spring with a good outfit, provided you want to come. Major Hicks and his brother are here, and report having found rich diggings about five miles further into the mountains, and George Greene and Mason Young have to day gone out to see what they can find, and if they find good diggings, we shall all go out there, and if not we have concluded on buying a rich gulch claim for five hundred dollars here and work that till fall."

Kentucky.

Cassius M. Clay spoke to a very large audience at Covington, Kentucky, on the night of July 29. The speech was straight-out Republican. He called upon the non-slaveholders of Kentucky to prepare to share in the national triumph of the Republicans next fall.

The Republicans in Kenton and Campbell counties have organized, and adopted a platform of the most large and liberal stamp. They insist that all territory shall be free—denounce the Dred Scott dogma, declare for emancipation in the State, and reform in the National Government. They also nominated candidates for Congress and the State Legislature. The party is to be called the "Free State Party of Kentucky."

William Yates, Treasurer of Douglas County, advertises for sale in the Lawrence Republican, thirty-five thousand acres of land in that county for the payment of taxes due for the year 1858. Also nearly three thousand lots in the City of Lawrence, for the same purpose; and about the same number in the city of Leocompton.

We are looking for something of this kind, on a smaller scale, in our own county, before long. Pay your taxes and save the expense of having your property advertised to pay them.

The "nigger" Democracy, tried to insert a provision in the Wyandotte Constitution giving to Indians the right of suffrage! Just think of a thousand half-naked, greasy Kaws, walking up to the polls and depositing their ballots! The Democrats are worse on the "Native" question than the Know Nothings ever were. The difference between the Indians and niggers with the Democrats is that the former would vote the Locooco ticket—the latter would not.

A "Temperance League" has been formed in Osawatomie, Lykins county. It is on the "joint stock" plan, and the shares are $50 dollars each. Every person desirous of becoming a member must first subscribe at least one share of the stock. The Association has also elected an Attorney to attend to its business. From all which we are led to believe that the "League" is going into business pretty extensively.

A fellow named McCrea was arrested in Leavenworth, on Tuesday the 2d inst., on charge of stealing money from the drawer and safe of the Planter's House. He "owned up" and was committed for examination. McCrea was stopping at the Planter's at the time, and is represented as being a very fashionable young gentleman who had made his mark in the fashionable circles of Leavenworth.

The Topeka folks feel decidedly "good" about the location of the Capital at their city. It is their turn to laugh, and we are glad they are enjoying a good one, and we certainly have no objections. Topeka is a good town, always true to freedom, and boasts some of the best men of Kansas. Here's our hand on't, and best wishes for the future.

Friend Mickel of Waterloo township, who was in town the other day, informs us that there has been over fifty claims taken the present season in that township—all of them by actual settlers. There are also a large number of desirable claims remaining. We recommend those looking for claims to visit Waterloo.

A. N. Fuller, for whom the Southern Know Nothings voted for Speaker of the House of Representatives, in Congress, in 1855, is now Chairman of the People's Party Central Committee of Pennsylvania.

SUN STROKE.—In looking over our exchanges, we hardly notice one, but mentions one or more deaths resulting from sun stroke. In the St. Louis Republican of the 20th, no less than eleven cases are reported. Persons necessarily exposed to the direct rays of the sun, should take some precautions to avert this calamity. Green leaves, worn in the crown of the hat, is said to be an effectual preventive; at any rate, it costs nothing, and is worth a trial.—Kansas City Journal.

No news from the Tennessee election which took place on Monday the 12th inst. The Opposition expected to carry several members of Congress, and the State ticket.
